

Which statements that describe MDCs. agrarian societies better standard of living
economic focus on manufacturing less access to health care longer life expectancy
lower educational levels

Answer:

- better standard of living
- economic focus on manufacturing
- longer life expectancy

Explanation:

The MDC's are the countries that are the most developed. These countries have by far the best and strongest economies, with the people having the best living conditions as well. The economies are heavily industrialized, and they focus on manufacturing, as well as on the service sectors. The people have higher wages, access to all the institutions, education, healthcare, and much higher life expectancy. Countries that fall into this category are the Japan, US, UK, Germany, Singapore, Liechtenstein, Australia etc.
